MISSION FOCUS

PHILIP AND JOYCE WANDAWA PWANDAWA@KEST.AC.UG

As Principal (Head) of Kampala Evangelical School of Theology (KEST), Philip is addressing the need for deeper theological training and leadership development especially for Ugandan pastors. From a formal degree program, to offsite certificate training for pastors of micro-churches, to newly developing online courses, KEST seeks to make education accessible to all.

Dear friends at WSBC,

We would like to thank you for faithful support and prayers.

We have been taking stock as family and as KEST this first quarter of 2021. It is exactly a year this month that the Covid-19 lockdown started. Little did we know the momentous changes that were to overtake our family with the passing of our son Jonathan, or the far reaching effect the lockdown would have on KEST!

The journey of healing as a family continues. Joyce is back to her teacher duties, and David is back to in-person school. We are grateful that things had opened up enough for Brian to fly back over the Christmas and New Year period to grieve and mourn his brother. Even though nothing will ever be the same again, we are hopeful that a new normal of sorts will gradually emerge for us as a family!

Did you know? Philip and his wife, Joyce, were active members of WSBC during the years he studied at Wheaton College and then at Trinity Divinity School.
